The Journey Of 3rd Party

1

One day the THREE lived happily ever after - and maybe they thought they did. One day, one of the Three decided to explore the journeys. He thought he wasn't wise enough, so he explored, asked, questioned for more. Even though, the gods gave him all the signs and synchronicity of his intelligence being of god, worthiness, wealth, and movement - in the end, touching the apple - this lead him down a path of youth ( There are two types of youth, being of youth and the perception of youth. The youth as we all know is growing in the mother womb and starting from an age of ignorance - the other side, well - 'Benjamin Button' the movie highlights the birth of being old and retuning to youth, but my point is the growth into a knowledgeable state and channeling the state of Youth. Some people explain Youth being vitality, speed in all regions, knowledge etc., but the definition of Youth is simply "the period between childhood and adult age." According to google. ) he decided he wanted to explore both and so, he did. When he discovered this " Youth ", he found happiness and almost took a defiance of ownership and believed the innocents from this THRD - that lived happily ever after. In the end, after exploring the " Youth " , he also found maybe retuning the the old may not be so bad. " To Remember Is To Acknowledge This Is Youth Too " - Not of " Youth " but of Knowledge. Choosing which he wanted or valued more, is not choosing one or the other but having both. He Lived Happily After with that - maybe hoping he can find both, maybe still chasing after Both or One. Question , What is " Youth " Again and what is Knowledge ... \ it's his life

The Lovers

The Two Lovers Meet. One from far away and the other "just around - chuckled".

It was love at first sight for both of them. One a thug and the other, a runaway. When meeting, she and he fell in love not knowing what that meant, it was supposed to click for them but instead, the drift drifted them away. He didn't want to think he was trying too hard and she didn't want to be placed, nor titled, nor follow his "Rules". Rules in getting to know his morals and values, history, lifestyle, and patients. One day, they ran into each other and founded the same energy but this time, things were deeper and understood, "It Was Love At First Sight". On her journey after meeting - "Running Back Into Him", she found Love At First Sight meant Cheating - FOR HER. She knew she loved the first one but it was something about this other one she couldn't put her finger on, of course she left it alone and continued with the first. Meeting the "Love At First Sight", they talked and had sex. The sex was wild but not as wild as her others - of course he knew that. You see, the first day he met her, he read her like an open book. (Touching her, making her laugh, and making sure to stay consistent. He visited her everyday - or when he can - and tried out the relationship. She thought, "This can work but I don't want this title".) He knew what the "Sight" meant, so he followed her into the kitchen, while cooking, the bathroom, living room, setting things to set the scene. You see during the whole journey, he laughed and knew this day would come, I mean he had doubted but he knew in his heart it would come true. - and then the baby happened.

The Kid

3

There was this kid. The kid existed but was never there, the kid made sure this was a story about just the two. One would ask\questioned did the kid decided to do everything for the two, since the influence was there. "He" went around talking to everyone but no one cared about the kid, only the partners did. They knew something was up with the kid because the kid was so quiet. so the parents continue loving and arguing with each other about money, food, anything to keep the family together. The child hated that the parents struggled for "him". The parents payed attention to the kid but not that close. You see He had gifts just like the mom and dad, the kid was just as strong as them. This was gods gifts to them for never " Running & Wandering ". They weren't able to recognized these gifts due to the focus. This kid had extraordinary gifts in music, knowledge, learning things before the average kid. So the kid one day started a secret account and once " He " got enough views and money - he didn't really care about the money - " He " sat mom and dad down and showed them. They were beyond shocked what they saw. " What was it? " they knew immediately to stop arguing and start working to help their kid achieve 'Her' destiny. So the dad and mom created another kid. This was the path of a prophet and a prophecy from the mother and father - their mother and father - witness. A Long Time Ago. : Classic _ I think they should continue their journey with this kid- SMILE
